Sorry Mary but these items would not be of any value to me. Regrets. Greg

Hello-

We had reconfigured our offices with the Herman Miller Q series of panels and have some surplus panels and worksurfaces that are not needed. See the pictures attached for an idea of what the product looks like. The surplus items are DISASSEMBLED and stored at our storage facility. There are a limited number of connecting pieces. This is mostly JUST panels and worksurfaces and a good number of the panels are the small window panels.

If this is something you are interested in, please let me know.
